The Carriage Waits "Without."
"The carriage waits without, my lord," "Without what, gentle air?" "Without the left hand running board, Without the French chauffeur, Without a drop of gasoline, Six nuts the can of oil, Four pinions, and the linousine, The spark-plug, and the coil, Without the brake, the horn, the clutch, Without the running gear, One cylinder—it beats the Dutch How much there isn't there! The car has been repaired, in fact, And you should be right glad To find that this much is intact Of what your lordship had. The garage sent it back, my lord, In perfect shape throughout; So you will understand, my lord, Your carriage waits without." —Harvard Lampoon.

BROADENS POWER TO SPANK CASTRO

Blanket Authority for Demonstration
Proposed in Resolution Framed by Cullum.

Washington, April 20.—Venezuela is to be coerced. Blanket authority will be given the president to deal with the existing situation according to his best judgment. This is the program now framed up by Republican leaders.

Senator Cullum, chairman of the committee on foreign relations, has prepared a resolution more drastic and sweeping than the one formulated by Senator Lodge. It gives the president full power to make a demonstration in force. This resolution has been approved by the president and Secretary Root. It will take precedence over the Lodge resolution. Mr. Cullum as chairman of the foreign relations committee will bring the matter up soon, and some legislation seems assured. Joint action by Senate and House is necessary.

The administration for a time feared it had been placed in an awkward position by the recent ratification of a general arbitration treaty and one opposed to the forcible collection of contractual debts. It seemed that because of these two conventions the "spanking" of Castro must be abandoned. It is now found that in the latest communication from Minister Russell, at Caracas, he announces the final rejection of proposed arbitration by Castro with the request that such a suggestion be hereafter regarded as a closed incident. This is construed as releasing the United States from all obligations imposed by the two treaties.

FORTUNE OF HILL SMALL.
Objections to Him as Ambassador Based on Wealth.

New York, April 20.—The objection to Dr. Hill as ambassador to Berlin was simply and solely that his private fortune would not enable him to represent properly the dignity of the American nation.

This statement was made yesterday in the House of Representatives by Mr. Longworth of Ohio, son-in-law of President Roosevelt, during the consideration of the diplomatic appropriation bill. Mr. Longworth was making a plea for maintenance by the government of suitable legation buildings at the various foreign capitals.

He referred to the press dispatches stating that the German emperor had refused to accept Dr. Hill and to the official denial given to the published stories. "Nevertheless," said Mr. Longworth, "there is no doubt that there was a foundation for these stories beyond mere rumor, and it is undoubtedly true that persons high in authority in Germany for some time have been saying that Dr. Hill was not persona grata to the emperor."

"These objections, however," he declared, "could not be because Dr. Hill was not experienced in diplomacy. They were, he asserted, due entirely to the fact that 'because he was not sufficiently well off to pay the difference between the amount paid him as salary and the amount necessary to maintain his position as ambassador, he would not be able to keep up such an establishment as that of the present American ambassador, but would not be able to keep up any establishment at all.'"

Lines by an Amateur Socialist.
I'm very often greatly pained
To note the world's gratitude
I hear there's nothing to be gained
By an obliging attitude.
I'm always offering my aid,
But few have been the friends I've made.

With scorn or laughter I have met,
And that is all the thanks I get.
I've spent my valuable time,
In securing humanity
Assailing what I thought was crime
Or absolute insanity.

But all my efforts men deride,
I talk until my throat is dry.
They laugh the more the more I fret,
And that is all the thanks I get.

If I've a chance to put folks right
I seize it with avidity,
But it seems quite a hopeless fight
I make against stupidity.

They never seem to care a rap,
But tell me "that's the official chap."
They are a most ungrateful set,
For that is all the thanks I get.

ABOUT THE STATE

The ice in the bay at Newport went out Tuesday night and leaves Lake Champlain clear inside of Farran's Point.

Ernest H. O'Brien has been reappointed by Judge J. L. Martin referee in bankruptcy for Rutland county. He succeeded the late Joel C. Baker in 1904.

H. H. Fowler of Milton is mentioned as a possible candidate to succeed Judge John H. Lyon of Colchester as assistant judge of Chittenden county court.

When Capt. Harry H. Tebbetts, 10th infantry, U. S. A., leaves Burlington in September to go to the Army War College at Washington, D. C., he will be succeeded as professor of military science and tactics at the university of Vermont by Capt. Daniel L. Tate of the 3rd cavalry. Capt. Tate was stationed at Fort Ethan Allen directly after the war was established and both he and Mrs. Tate have many warm friends in Burlington. Capt. Tate, who entered the army from Kentucky, is now on a leave of absence in Scranton, Pa., Mrs. Tate's former home.

The annual state convention of the Vermont Young Men's Christian Association will be held at the new building of the Bennington organization Friday, Saturday and Sunday, May 1, 2 and 3.

In order to secure the presence of the prominent speakers who will respond to the banquet, it was necessary to hold this feature on the opening instead of the closing evening. Gov. Fletcher D. Proctor has given assurance that he will be in attendance, but requested that in view of some conflicting business that might detain him, he be given no position on the program.

Order of Knights of Malta Instituted.
The first organization of the order of Knights of Malta was effected in Belvidere Falls Thursday evening when Vermont Commandery No. 1 was organized.

A large number of visiting Knights assembled from Claremont, Concord and Manchester, N. H., Boston and Springfield, Mass., Portland, Me., and Hartford, Conn., as well as a number of the supreme officers including Supreme Recorder Frank Gray, of Philadelphia, and Supreme Organizer M. C. Redfield of Claremont. Representatives from the grand organizations of New Hampshire, Massachusetts and Maine were also present. The initiation was by Green Mountain commandery of Claremont which was present almost in its entirety.

Following the work a banquet was served and there were speeches. Officers installed were: Commander, Fred G. Edgson; generalissimo, Burt A. Golding; captain-general, E. A. Thomas; proctor, W. S. Russell; recorder, Fred W. Whitaker; assistant recorder, Sidney Walker; treasurer, S. S. Barnes; senior warden, John A. Plimpton.

UNIVERSITY OF VERMONT.
Proposed Resident Coach to Take Charge of Athletics.

At a university of Vermont college meeting Friday noon, the resolutions of the advisory board as regards a resident coach were adopted, with the provision that if the captains and managers are unable to agree upon such resident coach, then the present system of coaching shall be fallen back upon. Dr. Cloutman gave an effective exposition of the system, saying that the resident coach could act in co-operation with the gymnasium director in coaching base ball and foot ball. The necessity of having more than one coach has long been felt. In football, for instance, the backfield and the line should each have a coach. With the resident coach system this would be possible. Finally, the resident coach will have at least the general athletic interests of the university, will not run football at the expense of base ball, or vice versa. He will keep his eye on the whole year, and will keep a line on the men—keep them from getting tied up with conditions, or feeling that they are neglected.

To stimulate interest in athletics, the student body further voted that members of the second foot ball and base ball teams be granted the right to wear "ends" upon hat, cap or sweater, fine granting of the letters to be based upon the recommendation of the coaches, captains and managers of the varsity team in consideration of work done and number of games played.

Comings, 10, was elected assistant manager of football, and a committee consisting of L. P. Smith, '08, chairman, and four others, one from each class to be appointed by the president of the senior class, was empowered to have complete charge of all celebrations, and to make plans for the observance of Founder's day, with the view of creating some new college customs, and making the event one in which all the university will take part.

Ballad of an Earthly Blessing.
Sorrow there are that I have known,
Sorrow that caused me many a tear;
But one small grief, and one alone,
Bides with me through the changing year.
Yet fails to make its anguish here.
Listen! Each hour I tread the street
I sadly watch those maidens dear—
The girls I see—but never meet.

Like butterflies have myriads flown
Across my vision; some appear
Like little dreams by angels thrown
Thro' starlit nights when April's here.
Some linger in my thoughts, to cheer
Long days of solemn rain and sleet.
They seem so far—and yet so near—
The girls I see—but never meet.

Ah, with their tresses gently blown
By envious winds that shift and veer,
And eyes wherein the light is shown
Of laughter on its bright career,
They pass and pass me till in sheer
Despair I seek some little retreat,
And brood on them in musings dear—
The girls I see—but never meet.

L'Envoi.
Princesses, I am but a mere
Mortal to crush beneath your feet.
Not mine to know you on this sphere—
The girls I see—but never meet!

—Life.

A Lay of Modern America.
The President at Washington, by the Big Stick he swore
That the poor retail dealers should suffer
wrong no more;
By the Big Stick he swore it, and cursed
the name of graft,
And bade his menials ride forth—east
and west and south and north—
To find a horse for the President.

—Harvard Lampoon.

YOUR HAT

May Be a Stylish One, But It Makes Trouble.

A man usually buys a hat that's "in style," but the modern hat for men has lots to answer for.

Headhairs are growing more numerous every day. Hats make excellent breeding places for the parasitic germs which sap the life from the roots of the hair.

When your hair begins to fall out and your scalp is full of dandruff it is a sure sign that these countless germs are busy at work.

There is but one way to overcome the trouble and kill the germs—that way is to apply Newbro's Herpicide to the scalp—it will kill the germs and healthy hair is sure to result.

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

Two sizes—50 cents and $1.00.

The Inductible Jokes.
This spring and woe inhabits all
My crowded tenemental soul,
Not that I mind it when I sprawl
In budding mud on sidewalks shawl;
I do not scorn the merry tread
Of "glad new life" o'er "wood and lea";
I sorrow for the old and dead—
The jokes about spring poetry.

I have no grudge on Easter hats;
Housecleaning sounds no jarring note;
I bravely face the hunt for flats;
Not even grip can get my goat;
I can avoid the magazines
When "auto numbers" stare at me;
But who can duck those evergreens;
The jokes about spring poetry.

No new shirt signs mine eye shall spare,
Nor tailor's circulars enmesh;
I can't en'mile when girls begin
That summer soda water spree;
But, by the gods! I will not grin
At jokes about spring poetry.
